SAT I Spring 2019 Program Details

MIT Academic Teaching Initiative, founded in 1985, aims to provide an affordable alternative to SAT prep programs offered by professional vendors. Our program provides SAT Reasoning (SAT I) and Subject (SAT II) preparation classes at a low cost to high school students in the Boston area.

Program Eligibility

We admit registrants up to our maximum capacity on a first to preregister basis. Therefore, it is important to complete pre-registration early. All high school students are allowed to apply (9th -12th grade). The student's school ID, most current report card, and most recent SAT/PSAT scores (if available) will be necessary during pre-registration.

If you are ineligible for the program, you will be asked to leave at once.

If you do not show up to registration and have not notified the directors of your intent to participate in the program, your spot will be forfeited for a student on the waitlist.

Tuition

The cost of $160 will be paid on registration day. This cost covers all classes, diagnostic and final exams, and a SAT Review book.

Financial Aid

Financial aid is available upon request. We will do our best to accommodate your individual situation. Copies of documents proving your financial situation will be requested. For example, proof of reduced or free school lunch, income statements, or tax returns are among the list of acceptable documents.

Refund Policy

Submitting the Online Pre-Registration Form for the SAT Preparation Program implies you understand that the $160 program fee is non-refundable once submitted, except in significant extenuating circumstances that will prevent the registered student from participating in the program. All requests for refund should be submitted in writing to ati-satprep@mit.edu and are subject to the approval of the SAT Preparation Program Directors. Refund requests must be submitted within 24 hours after the end of the first class to be considered. For students' convenience, the following sample reasons are not valid reasons for refunds.

1) Program schedule did not work out.

Students are expected to peruse the program schedule included, and should not sign up for the program if there were known conflicting events that prevent the student from attending all program sessions. At the ATI Directors discretion, refunds may be approved for significant personal reasons.

2) Program is too easy/too difficult.

The SAT Preparation Program is designed to prepare students from a wide range of abilities. We are unable to honor student refunds for reasons such as material difficulty after the start of the program.

3) Program is not to the student's liking.

We are unable to honor student refunds for personal reasons regarding the instruction of the program, unless significant error and lapse in performance had been demonstrated by our teachers.
